

Certified Identification (ID) and Personal Details Requirements

The following document is a guideline to the Certified ID Requirements and Personal Details required by financial institutions before placing any investments.

The Anti-Money Laundering (AML) and Counter-Terrorism Financial (CTF) Act 2006 requires that financial institutions collect and verify specific information about their clients. As the specific information is not listed in the Act, each financial institution has their own process in complying with identification laws. AMM requires that we receive the minimum requirement of certified ID documents with every new AMM Client Account Application. Please note the 'Exceptions for Certified Individuals and Entities' section of this document which outlines additional Certified Identification from particular financial institutions.

Certified copies of ID must be clear and legible with a certification date of less than 6 months ago. For a guideline regarding who is authorised to certify and how this should be done, please refer to Page 3 of this document. If your identification is written in a language other than English, you must provide a translation into English by a translator who is accredited by the National Accreditation Authority for Translators and Interpreters.

Certified Identification for Individuals

The minimum certified ID is as follows:

- One item from 'Primary Photo ID', or
- One item from 'Primary NON-Photo ID' AND one from 'Secondary ID'

Please note certain financial institutions will require further ID - please refer to the Exceptions section. If you place an investment with one of the institutions, AMM will contact you to obtain the additional ID.

How to Certify ID

To certify a document, an "authorised person" must clearly write:

"I hereby certify this document is a true copy of the original document shown to me" And then add the following information:

- Signature
- Date
- Full Name (printed)
- Address
- Phone Number
- Qualification
- Registration Number

Contact details of the "authorised person" can be either work or residential.

Individuals certifying documents need to certify every page of the document. If they only wish to write on the first page, they must clearly state that they are certifying the entire document (i.e. all pages).

Please note, authorised certifier persons must be Australian Citizens and cannot be a relative of the account holder, sign on behalf of themselves (if they are an authorised document certifier) or a member of the Defence Force.
